Program Goals and Objectives: The program in kinesiology with a concentraion in K-12 Teaching Physical Education, Wellness and Lesiure (KINSBS-PEWL) is designed to prepare candidates for a variety of career options teaching physical education, health, leisure and coaching in a K-12 school setting.

Learning Outcomes: Upon completion of the Kinesiology concentration (KINSBS-PEWL), students will be eligible to be recommended for licensure by the Arkansas State Department of Education to teach physical education, wellness (health education) and leisure (recreational activities) in public and private school kindergarten through twelfth grade settings.

Description and justification of the request: The pedagogy faculty has voted to move The School Health Program (PHED 3573) class from the listing of pedagogical classes as part of the admission process into teacher education into the listing of regularly required courses for the degree program. The pedagogy class listing are classes that are gate checked with a certain grade point average, passing of the Praxis Core (all three parts) and PHED 1003 as prerequisites. The PHED faculty feel It is important to have enough upper division classes that are not a part of the admission process available for students; particularly transfer students and those students that may just be barely below the standard of admission to teacher education and need another semester to complete that process. The prerequisite for this class; The School Health Program (PHED 3573) is PBHL 1103 (Personal Health and Safety). It always has been the prerequisite and did not change when we inadvertently put the classes in the list of pedagogical class. This does not change the program in any way as to classes required or required hours for the degree. It is just placing the class in a different category in the curriculum.

Program reviewer comments: jpenner (09/19/16 11:00 am): In justification, deleted "dynamic" in front of "admission process." Put space between "any" and "way" on last sentence.
