Program Goals and Objectives

Program Goals and Objectives

The purpose of the minor is to promote global citizenship on campus by providing wide-ranging training in regional language and culture, international issues, and intercultural skills. The special emphasis on Global Studies seeks to raise awareness of a range of issues impacting human and natural systems on a worldwide scale both through participation in a gateway course and through the selection of an advanced course treating a selected global issue.

Learning Outcomes

Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the concentration, students will be able to

1. Explain how different disciplinary approaches inform general understanding of international affairs and relationships.
2. Identify and describe key features of a defined world area, including but not limited to its history, geography, economy, and cultures.
3. Demonstrate understanding of the complexity of components important to members of another culture.
4. Explain, using the example of one or more global issues, the historical and contemporary roles, interconnections, and differential effects of human organizations and actions on global systems within the human and/or natural worlds.

Description and justification of the request

Description of specific change	Justification for this change
Changing the language in Option One allowing students to complete nine hours of language courses.	We want option one to match the requirements for language in the International Business BS, which permits students to count one intermediate course and two advanced courses towards their required hours. This allows Int Business majors to meet their major requirements in part by completing the GLST minor.
