| | Catalog Title | Inquiry-Based Lesson Design: UAteach Step II | Field Experience in Teaching STEM Subjects |
| | Short Course Title | INQ-BASED LESSON DESIGN | FIELD EXP IN TEACHING STEM |
| | Catalog Description | For students exploring teaching as a career. Following an introduction to the theory and practice behind inquiry-based science and mathematics instruction, students teach lessons in elementary classrooms to obtain firsthand experience in planning and implementation. | After learning strategies for engaging students and organizing a lesson, student pairs plan and teach several student-centered lessons (choice of math, science, or computer science) in a local middle school classroom, assess student understanding, and revise lessons based on feedback. For STEM majors exploring teaching as an additional career option. |
| | Prerequisite(s) | ARSC 1201. | |
| | Justification | Removed inactive course from requisite. | Change the course name and number from ARSC 1221 to ARSC 1202 to follow the numbering of ARSC 1201, and adding an extra credit to this course because of the practicum element of the course where the students go out to schools. The previous course entailed more work than the number of credits reflected. |

| | Course Number | 4133 | 3183 |
| | Title/Description Change Type | Minor (stylistic/editorial) Change | |
| | Justification | Updated typically offered field. | Over the years and across the different media areas in studio art, there has not been consistency in which types of courses are 3000-level (intermediate) vs. 4000-level (advanced). These proposed changes will help to better align our course offerings with the new STARBFA curriculum. Specifically, we want to ensure that STARBFA majors complete a sequence of truly advanced 4000-level courses in their concentration. |

| | Title/Description Change Type | Major Content Change | |
|-----------|-------------------------------|---|--|
| | Justification | While a new beginning level course being submitted as "ARTS 3813-Photo I: Digital" will cover the basics of digital photography, this course will now pursue digital and chemical / historic materials as an intermediate level study (which is more appropriate course content for the 4000-level). Pre-reqs are adjusted to reflect that all 4000 level courses will now require ARTS 3803 and 3813 | Over the years and across the different media areas in studio art, there has not been consistency in which types of courses are 3000-level (intermediate) vs. 4000-level (advanced).
