result of this action:

How will students in
the deleted program
be accommodated?

We will continue considering other ways to encourage interested JOUR students to focus on in-depth political science courses as part of their journalism training. No other accommodations are needed except for course substitutions for courses that are no longer being taught. The department will approve on a case-by-case basis.

How will funds from
the deleted program
be reallocated?

Justification for this request

1. The major is out-of-compliance with university standards. 2. The Political Science Department often has to use course substitutions because recommended PLSC courses in this combined major are not offered regularly. 3. Confusion reigns over whether this combined major exists or should exist, especially in regard to student advising.

Journalism Requirements

The journalism requirement may be satisfied by a minimum of 24 semester hours of JOUR courses, including JOUR 1023, JOUR 1033, and JOUR 3633. The remaining hours are filled from the following options.

All majors and minors must complete the Grammar, Spelling and Punctuation (GSP) requirement as a prerequisite or co-requisite to JOUR 1033 Media Writing by completing one of these two options: 1) Pass JOUR 1003 Journalistic Writing Skills with a grade of C or better; or 2) Pass JOUR 1100 Grammar Spelling Punctuation Requirement with a Satisfactory (S) grade by scoring a 75% or better on the GSP test that is administered through the class. Once you officially declare a Journalism major or minor, you will obtain access to the GSP Blackboard course for Option 2. Students who do not complete both the GSP requirement and JOUR 1033 with a C or better cannot enroll in any courses for which JOUR 1033 is a prerequisite. The GSP test is only administered a certain number of times each semester. Students must request a GSP test time a minimum of two weeks before they plan to take the test. There is no guarantee that GSP testing slots will be open when desired, so students must schedule well in advance.
